

$30,000 FOR INYO PROPERTY

Thirty thousand dollars is the price admittedly paid to Tom Neylon for his claim adjoining the True Fissure property in the White mountains. The buyer was Malcolm Macdonald of Tonopah, representing Charles M. Schwab and his mining confederates.

While the parties directly concerned are not here, the bona fide character of the sale is no longer questioned. Macdonald and John Kirchen, manager of the Montgomery-Shoshone mine at Rhyolite, made the final examination of this group of claims about two weeks ago, and since have had a corps of five or six surveyors on the property under charge of William Eva of Big Pine, who has charge of all of Schwab's interests there. The terms on the property were made by Neylon, and have as it is now conceded, been accepted by Macdonald. These terms are $3000 in cash to be paid on July 10, with substantial cash payments following this for a term of months. Neylon is himself on the property now with the surveying crew.

Neylon's claims are ten in number, and on them he has expended a good many thousands of dollars. He has already bored a tunnel into the mountain for fully 1200 feet, and has so opened up the fine quartz veins that it is considered one of the best buys in this county as a prospect. Macdonald and Kirchen on their last visit here devoted three or four days in sampling the ore thoroughly, and upon completion of this work, tacitly accepted Neylon's terms. This meant an option on the property until July 10 during which time they could search thoroughly the title which Neylon holds on the ground.

The property is well situated for mining, being on the west slope of the White mountains, in what is known as Plute canyon, and just over the Inyo-county line in Mono. It is within a few miles of the railroad, has plenty of wood and water on the ground, and nearby, and the ore is free milling giving values from $20 a ton upwards.

The adjoining property is the True Fissure, owned by the True Fissure Mining company of Bishop, the stock of which is largely owned by the Leids. Since the first of the year L. L. Leidy has worked consistently on this property in developing a four-foot vein of free milling rock, which he found in December while doing the annual assessment work. No overtures have as yet been made by the Schwab people for the purchase of the True Fissure, and apparently the True Fissure people are not at all anxious to sell. In the same belt, and within a few miles are the Sacramento, the Climax, the Southern Bell, and the North Inyo, all having excellent showings in free gold and partly developed.—Owens Valley Herald.

POPULAR COUPLE TAKE THE VOW

When A. W. Clark of Las Vegas came to Tonopah the other day it was supposed by his friends that he had come ostensibly for the purpose of joining the Elks. He did join that order but it has come to light that he had a dual purpose in coming to Nevada's premier mining camp. Last evening he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Minnie Pomeroy, one of the most estimable young ladies of this city. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Nellie Pomeroy, a sister of the bride acted as best lady, while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Ed W. Clark. Angelo Clark, formerly an assemblyman from Lincoln county and a brother of the groom also attended the ceremonies.

Mr. Clark, the groom, is now a resident of Las Vegas, being the moving spirit of the Al W. Clark Forwarding company of Las Vegas. For many years he made this city his home and there are many friends here who will wish them all kinds of success.

The bride has made Tonopah her home for a number of years. She is one of the most popular young ladies in this section. The best wishes of her friends, of whom she has many, go with her. The future home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be Las Vegas, Nevada.

GODDESS ENTRIES ASKED TO HAVE REPRESENTATIVES

The committee in charge of the goddess of liberty contest is desirous that each of the candidates have a representative on hand when the votes are finally counted. It appears that in a former contest there was quite a little talk that some crooked work was indulged in. Mr. R. C. Klepper, chairman of the contest committee for the forthcoming celebration wishes all to know that this year's race is entirely on the square. Consequently he requests each of the candidates to have some one at the final counting to look after her interests. The votes will be counted in the office of Chief of Police Malley on tomorrow evening. W. J. Wilson, E. L. Kidd and J. J. Deagan compose the auditing committee.

BIG ATTRACTION AT PAVILION

One of the amusement events of the Fourth is the opening of the Elleford company's engagement at the pavilion. This is the first visit of the Ellefords to Tonopah, but all those who are fortunate enough to see the opening performance, "The American Girl," a big treat is in store and no one will be disappointed. It is a play that invariably appeals to all that is best in human nature. It uplifts one from the sordid cares of every day life and inspires in one the highest ideals. The story is clean, wholesome and intelligent; that of a pretty southern girl who marries an Englishman. The husband is called home on business and the girl later goes abroad to seek him. It is the sort of play that enlists our sympathies at once and the "girl" provides the heart interest, while there are several comedy characters that are delightful. The leading roles are taken by Miss Auda Due and Pietro Sasso. George Hernandez and Mattie Lloyd Luce furnish the comedy and all the others in the cast give splendid support. The little Osborn children, two of the cleverest youngsters on the stage appear in the characters of "Prince Roy" and "Little Lady," the children of Phillip Derwent, and their acting is admirable. These tots also present clever vaudeville features between acts. Manager Elleford has long had the reputation for giving the best performances at popular prices of any amusement organization in the west. Long experience in the business has given him an insight which probably no other manager possess and he knows what the public wants. He has one of the best companies this season he has ever had and his repertoire of plays covers comedy, clever farce and pleasing melodrama, all of which are staged with every regard to detail and scenic effect. The prices for the entire engagement are 25, 50 and 75 cents. The seat sale opens at the Miners drug store Friday morning.

RELIC OF WAR PLAYS HAVOC IN BUILDING

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.), June 30.—Wilton Ooley, janitor of the Mining Exchange building had his left arm terribly lacerated today by the accidental explosion of an inch Hotchkiss shell, a relic of the Spanish-American war. The explosion was caused by hitting the shell while he was cleaning the room where it was kept. Considerable damage was done to the building by the explosion.

MISS ROBB IS NOW LEADING THE CONTEST

As has been predicted in this paper for the past few days, the goddess of liberty contest, as it approaches its close, is warming up to fever heat. Yesterday Miss Robb received enough and more votes to place her in first position. Her friends rallied strongly to her support and they do not hesitate to say that it is their intention to see that the popular young lady carries off the laurels. Miss Pomeroy is now in second position, while Miss McLean occupies the third place. There will be a heap of voting today and the winner of the contest will be proud to realize that her friends were so loyal. The vote follows:

Miss Robb 3550

Miss Pomeroy 3380

Miss McLean 3330

MEXICO'S NEW MINING CODE.

Mexico has at last recognized the fact that it is the prospector who blazes the trail for the capitalist and that he divides with the moneyed interests the credit for advancing the prosperity of a country. The new code of mining laws, which become effective July 6, removes much of the red tape which has hampered the prospector and which has made almost prohibitive the plying of his trade. The new law will be very similar to the statutes governing locations, recording of mineral claims, etc., as are in operation in western United States.

The features objectionable to foreign operators and owners have been eliminated or amended to their satisfaction and in every way has the government shown a desire in furthering the welfare of the country to materially aid and benefit those who are developing her resources. This is only one of the many progressive strides which Mexico has made under the rule of President Diaz.

INCOME TAX ONLY SUBJECT OF SENATE

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The income tax was practically the only subject before the senators today. Cummins and Borah were the only speakers before the senate. Borah took for his text his declaration made yesterday by Aldrich that he would vote for a corporation tax amendment only as a means of defeating the income tax without resorting to personalities. He criticized the position of the chairman of the finance committee who presented a corporation tax amendment before the senate. Cummins also paid respects to Aldrich on account of his avowal.
